7 HURT WHEN AUTOS CRASH OVER WEEKEND

Slippery Pavement Blamed For Five Accidents Near Lisbon

Heavy traffic, slippery roads from the weekend's rainfall and poor road conditions on Route 30 south of Lisbon resulted in five of seven accidents, according to the state highway patrol. Seven persons suffered injuries.

Injured: Mrs. Faye Felger, 51, R. D. East Palestine, possible fracture of the left hip and lacerations of the face. Brought to Salem City hospital.

Robert D. McGrew, 11, of Vandergrift, Pa., lacerations of the lip and chin. Taken to East Liverpool City hospital.

Robert S. McGrew, 42, of Vandergrift, bruises of the head.

Robert Williams, 8, of South Hills, Pa., cuts and bruises of the head.

Mildred McGrew, 40, of Vandergrift, bruises of the knee and shock.

Roby Coder, 48, of South Hills, Pa., cuts, bruises and possible skull fracture.

John Martin, 23, of Lisbon, lacerations of the face and knee.

Caroline Jester, 8, of Lisbon, lacerations of the face.

Hurt on Route 11

Mrs. Felger was injured at 8:30 a. m. Sunday on Route 11, east of Salem, when a car driven by her son, Donald, slipped into a ditch and struck a culvert, damaging the car extensively.

Mildred McGrew was the driver of the car in which Robert D. and Robert S. McGrew were passengers on Route 30, south of Lisbon at 4 p. m. Saturday when the vehicle swerved off the road and back and then struck another car, operated by Fred W. Coder, 32, of South Hills.

Robert Williams and Roby Coder were riding with Coder, patrolman said. Both cars were damaged and all passengers treated at East Liverpool City hospital.

Martin and Miss Webster were injured at 1 p. m. Sunday, patrolmen said, when Martin lost control of his car on Route 30, south of Lisbon, and crashed into a light pole. Both were treated by an East Liverpool physician.

Cars Overturned

No one was injured at 5 p. m. Saturday when a car driven by Edna Zuchowski, 23, of Joliet, Ill., dropped off the berm of the road on Route 30, south of Lisbon and overturned as the driver attempted to regain the pavement.

Arthur L. Osterhoff, 44, of New Delaware, escaped injuries in a similar accident south of Lisbon on Route 30 at 2:45 p. m. Saturday when his car overturned.

Two drivers, Karl Berger, 37, of Lima, and Manuel Gonzales, 25, of Lancaster, Pa., escaped uninjured when their cars collided nearly head-on on Route 30, south of Lisbon at 1:30 Saturday, after Gonzales' car skidded into the center of the road.

Clyde Martin, 19, of East Liverpool, and James Reil, 63, also of East Liverpool, were uninjured at 12:10 p. m. Sunday when their vehicles collided on Route 170, near Calcutta. Patrolmen said Martin lost control as he attempted to stop and struck the other car from the rear.

Four-Day Toll In Calcutta Rioting Placed At 3,000

CALCUTTA, Aug. 19.—Moslems and Hindus killed each other at a slackened pace today in the stinking streets of Calcutta, which in four days have been strewn with 2,000 to 3,000 corpses.

The situation was the quietest since Friday when the rival factions started the most ghastly riots in Calcutta's turbulent history, quarreling over differences regarding the British proof of independence.

Sporadic shooting continued. Eerie cries rang through the streets. Bodies were piled here and there.

Several thousands lay wounded. The food situation worsened as stores remained closed. Looting was rife. Police blotters were filled with accounts of women brutally raped, mutilated, then butchered or burned with their families.

An official statement said that the situation had "improved." Peace committees attempted to quell the violence.

Police Fire On Mob

Police fired during the night on one large mob which swarmed up a city thoroughfare. At least three persons were killed and 20 injured as a result of this encounter.

Moslem crowds continued to swarm into Hindu areas, and Hindu crowds into Moslem areas. Damage to property was expected to run into millions of dollars.

The rioting grew out of differences between the Moslems and Hindus on the British proposal for Indian independence. Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem league, said in Bombay yesterday that the predominantly Hindu congress party had offered the league five of the 14 seats in the cabinet of the proposed interim government, and that it "is obvious I could not possibly accept."

Jinnah said it was "inconceivable" that British Prime Minister Attlee would allow the congress party to be installed in power on its own terms by the British government to rule Moslems and minorities with the help of British blood and treasure.

Glidden Tour of Old Cars Begins

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 19.—A caravan of some 80 automobiles of the horseless carriage era headed toward Rochester and Buffalo today on another leg of the Glidden tour from New York and other eastern cities to Cleveland and Detroit.

The ancient vehicles, dating back to 1904, completed the run along the Cherry Valley turnpike from Albany, where the caravan assembled, to Syracuse yesterday.

Several breakdowns marked the run, among them one in which a 1909 White Steamer experienced trouble three miles out of Albany. It was towed into service.

At Buffalo, the cars will continue by Great Lakes steamer to Detroit and then will return to Cleveland by boat. From Cleveland they will be driven to Cincinnati, O., for presentation of trophies to the five motorists with the best records.

Resolutions Scanned

A large number of resolutions are scheduled for introduction at today's business sessions. Among these are demands for state action in the housing crisis and a state appropriation of $1,000,000 to be loaned to school boards and other educational units throughout the state for establishment of veterans school programs.

The housing resolution asks loans and grants from the state surplus to finance an immediate emergency housing program before winter.

Delegates heard U. S. Senator James W. Huffman (D-Ohio) declare yesterday that Russia is "a big bully who is trying to shove America around."

Senator Huffman called upon the Legion to lend its support to Secretary of State Byrnes in "standing their ground" in diplomatic negotiations now under way.

Adm. King Also Speaks

Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King and Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commanding general of the Fifth service command, also addressed the convention and supported Huffman's plea to guard the nation's security by maintaining a strong army, navy and air force.

Death of her mother forced Mrs. Willard Morris, national vice president of the Legion's auxiliary, to a central division to cancel her speech at that group's annual convention dinner last night.

PLANE SILENT AFTER RADIO TELLS OF RAID

Anti-Aircraft Fire of Marshal Tito's Forces May Have Found Mark

TRIESTE, Aug. 19.—An American army transport flying near the Yugoslav border radioed today that it was under fire from anti-aircraft guns, leading to speculation that Marshal Tito's forces again had attacked a U. S. plane accused of infringing upon his territory.

The plane was silent after the message.

The transport tonight was hours overdue on its flight from Vienna to Udine with a crew of three officers and two enlisted men.

This attack report came less than 24 hours after the U. S. embassy in Belgrade announced that Yugoslav fighter planes fired machine gun bursts Aug. 9 into another transport on the same route.

Ambassador Richard C. Patterson denounced that attack which forced the plane to land, as "a wicked, inexcusable and deliberate attack on a friendly nation's airplane." The crew and passengers of that C-47 still are interned by Yugoslavia.

Both transports were assigned to the U. S. Army's European transport service, and both were flying the route from Austria to Udine airport in the British-American occupation zone of the Venezia Giulia area, disputed between Italy and Yugoslavia.

The plane missing today left Vienna at 7:30 a. m., passed over Kriegenfurt in Austria at 8:50 a. m., and was missing at 9:07 a. m., that tracer bullets were passing it. It should have reached Udine at 9:20 a. m.

Forced To Fly Low

The ordinary run for these ships, after they cross into Italian territory, as along the Istria valley, at times very close to the Morgan line dividing the Yugoslav and British-American zones of occupation in disputed Venezia Giulia. The Italian, Yugoslav and Austrian borders intersect nearby.

Since the Aug. 9 episode American planes have been cautioned to shun Yugoslav territory. The RAF, also flying the Vienna-Udine route, ordered its planes to fly west of the Morgan line.

As on Aug. 9 bad weather prevailed in the area today. Udine airport officials said the transport probably was flying low to stay under the ceiling.

Either Way, A Bum Trick

An announcement by the executive council of United Auto Workers that the union's wage agreement with Chrysler Corp. would be reopened Oct. 16 for review carries out a threat which has been pending for many months.

It is aimed, obviously, at Washington—specifically at the three-man board which is deciding what to do with price controls. If price controls are removed and prices rise, United Auto Workers and other CIO unions are threatening to strike. If price controls are not removed nor put back on and prices rise, the unions are threatening to strike.

About a year ago this time these unions, or their spokesmen, were spreading the doctrine of boosting hourly wage rates without boosting prices. With the assistance of the Truman administration, they boosted wage rates. But prices rose too. Now the shoe is on the other foot. Industry, with the assistance of the Truman administration, has been boosting prices without boosting wage rates. It doesn't promise to work any better than the miracle the union promised to perform. The wage-price dog is chasing its tail up, up, up.

What This Nation Could Do

When the United States was plunged into World War II no one knew what it could do. Guesses ranged from extreme pessimism to extreme optimism—and the most extreme optimism as it turned out, fell short of reality.

Again, when the United States came out of the war victorious and started to reconvert to peacetime production no one knew what it could do. Pessimists in Washington painted a dark picture. Optimists elsewhere favored a brighter picture. Even with the handicaps of strikes, which threatened to make the pessimists right, the optimists again proved too conservative.

This is the background for a project whose completion will be awaited with genuine interest—a Twentieth Century Fund survey balancing the country's human and material resources against its estimated needs for the decade 1950-1960. The survey will be finished early next year. It will be the first comprehensive thing of its kind ever attempted.

It has one handicap, however. No survey can measure human will. Given the wherewithal, men can do as much as they can imagine themselves able to do. Witness: the war effort. With the same wherewithal, but lacking the will, the same men can do nothing at all. Witness: work stoppages that handicap the peace effort. The Twentieth Century Fund's statistics are national possibilities from 1950 to 1960 will be extremely valuable, but they will not tell the real story of American possibilities. That is in the minds of Americans.

Another Key Strike

National Maritime Union, bobbing up in the Great Lakes at the peak of the shipping season with a strike plan to tie up as many cargo vessels as possible, is potentially capable of doing severe damage.

Depending on the union's strength among Great Lakes "seamen" and the justice of its claims against ship operators, this is a key strike which might have far more effect on efforts to control inflation than anything being attempted in Washington.

Steel is recognized as the basic industrial commodity. An extensive or a prolonged strike interrupting the movement of raw materials for the steel industry at this critical juncture could stall production until well into the summer of 1947. It is difficult to think of any one place where more damage could be done in the race between rising production and rising prices than Great Lakes transportation. Once more, the master strategists of the CIO have gone unerringly to the key spot of the nation's intricate industrial organization and posted their pickets, presumably in the hope of forcing government seizure of an indispensable facility if they can make their strike successful.

An Unbiased Opinion

The chairman of the three-man price decontrol board, Roy L. Thompson, says he and his associates will make an unbiased decision on whether to restore price ceilings and subsidies on meat, grain and dairy products. He has been nettled by speculation that the board's decision was reached before hearings began and that its decision was to re-establish OPA in these basic food fields.

Under the circumstances, such speculation was inevitable. Members of the decontrol board were appointed by President Truman, whose bias in favor of continuing OPA controls is a matter of record. It is unlikely Mr. Truman would have picked three men whose views were known to be contrary to his own. That is not the way it's done. The assumption of bias for price control is valid until proved false.

Obviously, the board's decision must rest on bias in one direction or the other; complete neutrality is impossible. It is not making a judicial decision. It is making a policy decision—and policy is bias. Persons biased toward a minimum of government control over enterprise inevitably are looking for ways to minimize it. Those biased toward a greater degree of government control are looking for ways to increase it. The decontrol board has been given authority to resolve an issue so tight that Congress itself could not break it. The most it could be expected to do without showing bias would be to strike a compromise that would leave both extremes unhappy. Perhaps that is what Chairman Thompson is thinking about when he promises an impartial decision.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, August 20

AN exceptionally progressive and constructive period is the augury based on the current astral configurations of major planets. It is a time for the inauguration of ambitious and concrete objectives.

Ideals and purposes of a more subtle and idealistic significance should be prosecuted with strategem and an appreciation of undercurrent values and their unique development.

Not only industry and sound sense but intrigue and singular tactics are recommended. Be careful not to rub any important ones in a wrong direction.

Work out problems with gracious and flexible routines.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for an exceptionally constructive and productive year, in which material as well as subtle factors may be manipulated by straight-forward and aggressive action.

Inner urges, intrigues and well-organized strategies have peculiar office in anchoring and promoting ambitious projects.

For particular rewards and emoluments, build up on firm foundations while the subtler and idealistic superstructures are bound to merit far-reaching returns.

Along the way, placate any forms of opposition with gracious and yielding tactics.

Those whose birthday it is may possess many qualities and creative urges of a realistic as well as subtle and intriguing character, all built upon firm and lasting foundations.

One thousand and fourteen children were adopted in New Jersey in 1945. We're always pleased to hear about more happy homes.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Nutrition and St. Vitus' Dance

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE are sometimes inclined to feel that doctors may be too fussy in the matter of sensible eating, balanced diets and the whole subject of nutrition.

They would change their minds if they realized as doctors do, that the properly-fed, well-nourished body is our best armor against attacks of certain deadly disease germs.

Take tuberculosis, for instance. At one time or another nearly everybody harbors these germs and yet, as a rule, they can do nothing against the individual whose vitality is sustained by proper nourishment, but must find their victims among those suffering from some form or other of malnutrition.

St. Vitus' Dance

Now, doctors are coming to believe that the strange, jerking disease of children, chorea, or St. Vitus' dance, can flourish only when poor nutrition prepares the way.

Chorea is thought to be a first cousin of the deadly rheumatic fever, which causes so much heart damage in children. Indeed, Dr. Joseph A. Johnston, of Detroit, believes it to be but a milder manifestation of this disease.

Furthermore, he states that in all his 24 years of experience with this twitcher and jerker of children, he has never known it to attack a child whose nutrition was good.

This does not mean, of course, that it affects only those who through poverty cannot get enough to eat. Often enough children or adolescents may be offered an adequate diet but fail to get the most out of it because of some other factor, such as diseased tonsils.

Ordinarily, too, according to Dr. Johnston, the great need of the rapidly growing adolescent child for proteins, calcium and extra amounts of Vitamin D is not realized by most parents. Hence, the father, whose real needs are much smaller, may often get the lion's share of the family supply of meat and eggs.

Improve General Health

Removal of tonsils will not of itself prevent chorea or other rheumatic disorders, but the operation may be beneficial if it helps to improve the child's general health.

If chorea once develops, it is usually not difficult to diagnose. In the beginning, there may be such things as awkwardness in writing, in the handling of a fork, and inability to control the tongue. The grip in the two hands may be uneven.

As the condition develops, the child makes many purposeless, jerky movements. In some cases there is slight fever. In more severe cases, there may be signs of pressure within the brain, which causes slowness of the heart beat and swelling of the blood vessels in the back part of the eyeball.

In treating this disorder, Dr. Johnston favors the use of injections under the skin of typhoid vaccines, particularly in those instances in which there is evidence of the heart damage which may sometimes develop.

Chorea is a lengthy affair, attacks lasting usually from 8 to 10 weeks and with a definite tendency to recur. Surely, if a child can be spared this illness by proper supervision of his nutrition, parents can not give too much attention to this matter and would do well to consult a doctor any time the child shows signs of undernourishment.

Of course, if chorea develops, prompt and painstaking treatment by a physician is a necessity.

Either Way, A Bum Trick

An announcement by the executive council of United Auto Workers that the union's wage agreement with Chrysler Corp. would be reopened Oct. 16 for review carries out a threat which has been pending for many months.

It is aimed, obviously, at Washington—specifically at the three-man board which is deciding what to do with price controls. If price controls are removed and prices rise, United Auto Workers and other C.I.O. unions are threatening to strike. If price controls are not removed nor put back on and prices rise, the unions are threatening to strike.

About a year ago this time these same unions, or their spokesmen, were spreading the doctrine of boosting hourly wage rates without boosting prices. With the assistance of the Truman administration they boosted wage rates. But prices rose too. Now the shoe is on the other foot. Industry, with the assistance of the Truman administration, has been boosting prices without boosting wage rates. It doesn't promise to work any better than the miracle the union promised to perform. The wage-price dog is chasing its tail up, up, up.

What This Nation Could Do

When the United States was plunged into World War II no one knew what it could do. Guesses ranged from extreme pessimism to extreme optimism—and the most extreme optimism as it turned out, fell short of reality.

Again, when the United States came out of the war victorious and started to reconquer to peacetime production no one knew what it could do. Pessimists in Washington painted a dark picture. Optimists elsewhere favored a brighter picture. Even with the handicaps of strikes, which threatened to make the pessimists right, the optimists again proved too conservative.

This is the background for a project whose completion will be awaited with genuine interest—a Twentieth Century Fund survey balancing the country's human and material resources against its estimated needs for the decade 1950-1960. The survey will be finished early next year. It will be the first comprehensive thing of its kind ever attempted.

It has one handicap, however. No survey can measure human will. Given the wherewithal, men can do as much as they can imagine themselves able to do. Witness: the war effort. With the same wherewithal, but lacking the will, the same men can do nothing at all. Witness: work stoppages that handicap the peace effort. The Twentieth Century Fund's statistics are national possibilities from 1950 to 1960 will be extremely valuable, but they will not tell the real story of American possibilities. That is in the minds of Americans.

Another Key Strike

National Maritime Union, bobbing up in the Great Lakes at the peak of the shipping season with a strike plan to tie up as many cargo vessels as possible, is potentially capable of doing severe damage.

Depending on the union's strength among Great Lakes "seamen" and the justice of its claims against ship operators, this is a key strike which might have far more effect on efforts to control inflation than anything being attempted in Washington.

Steel is recognized as the basic industrial commodity. An extensive or a prolonged strike interrupting the movement of raw materials for the steel industry at this critical juncture could stall production until well into the summer of 1947. It is difficult to think of any one place where more damage could be done in the race between rising production and rising prices than Great Lakes transportation. Once more, the master strategists of the C.I.O. have gone untrusting to the key spot of the nation's intricate industrial organization and posted their pickets, presumably in the hope of forcing government seizure of an indispensable facility if they can make their strike successful.

An Unbiased Opinion

The chairman of the three-man price decontrol board, Roy L. Thompson, says he and his associates will make an unbiased decision on whether to restore price ceilings and subsidies on meat, grain and dairy products. He has been nettled by speculation that the board's decision was reached before hearings began and that its decision was to re-establish OPA in these basic food fields.

Under the circumstances, such speculation was inevitable. Members of the decontrol board were appointed by President Truman, whose bias in favor of continuing OPA controls is a matter of record. It is unlikely Mr. Truman would have picked three men whose views were known to be contrary to his own. That is not the way it's done. The assumption of bias for price control is valid until proved false.

Obviously, the board's decision must rest on bias in one direction or the other; complete neutrality is impossible. It is not making a judicial decision. It is making a policy decision—and policy is bias. Persons biased toward a minimum of government control over enterprise inevitably are looking for ways to minimize it. Those biased toward a greater degree of government control are looking for ways to increase it. The decontrol board has been given authority to resolve an issue so tight that Congress itself could not break it. The most it could be expected to do without showing bias would be to strike a compromise that would leave both extremes unhappy. Perhaps that is what Chairman Thompson is thinking about when he promises an impartial decision.

For Tuesday, August 20

AN exceptionally progressive and constructive period is the augury based on the current astral configurations of major planets. It is a time for the inauguration of ambitious and concrete objectives.

Ideals and purposes of a more subtle and idealistic significance should be prosecuted with strategem and an appreciation of undercurrent values and their unique development.

Not only industry and sound sense but intrigue and singular tactics are recommended. Be careful not to rub any important ones in a wrong direction.

Work out problems with gracious and flexible routines.

If It Is Your Birthday Those whose birthday it is may look for an exceptionally constructive and productive year, in which material as well as subtle factors may be manipulated by straight-forward and aggressive action.

Inner urges, intrigues and well-organized strategies have peculiar office in anchoring and promoting ambitious projects.

For particular rewards and emoluments, build up on firm foundations while the subtle and idealistic superstructures are bound to merit far-reaching returns.

Along the way, placate any forms of opposition with gracious and yielding tactics.

Those whose birthday it is may possess many qualities and creative urges of a realistic as well as subtle and intriguing character, all built upon firm and lasting foundations.

One thousand and fourteen children were adopted in New Jersey in 1945. We're always pleased to hear about more happy homes.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Nutrition and St. Vitus' Dance

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE are sometimes inclined to feel that doctors may be too fussy in the matter of sensible eating, balanced diets and the whole subject of nutrition.

They would change their minds if they realized as doctors do, that the properly-fed, well-nourished body is our best armor against attacks of certain deadly disease germs.

Take tuberculosis, for instance. At one time or another nearly everybody harbors these germs and yet, as a rule, they can do nothing against the individual whose vitality is sustained by proper nourishment, but must find their victims among those suffering from some form or other of malnutrition.

St. Vitus' Dance

Now, doctors are coming to believe that the strange, jerking disease of children, chorea, or St. Vitus' dance, can flourish only when poor nutrition prepares the way.

Chorea is thought to be a first cousin of the deadly rheumatic fever, which causes so much heart damage in children. Indeed, Dr. Joseph A. Johnston, of Detroit, believes it to be but a milder manifestation of this disease.

Furthermore, he states that in all his 24 years of experience with this twitcher and jerker of children, he has never known it to attack a child whose nutrition was good.

This does not mean, of course, that it affects only those who through poverty cannot get enough to eat. Often enough children or adolescents may be offered an adequate diet but fail to get the most out of it because of some other factor, such as diseased tonsils.

Ordinarily, too, according to Dr. Johnston, the great need of the rapidly growing adolescent child for proteins, calcium and extra amounts of Vitamin D is not realized by most parents. Hence, the father, whose real needs are much smaller, may often get the lion's share of the family supply of meat and eggs.

Improve General Health

Removal of tonsils will not of itself prevent chorea or other rheumatic disorders, but the operation may be beneficial if it helps to improve the child's general health.

If chorea once develops, it is usually not difficult to diagnose. In the beginning, there may be such things as awkwardness in writing, in the handling of a fork, and inability to control the tongue. The grip in the two hands may be uneven.

As the condition develops, the child makes many purposeless, jerky movements. In some cases, there is slight fever. In more severe cases, there may be signs of pressure within the brain, which causes slowness of the heart beat and swelling of the blood vessels in the back part of the eyeball.

Chorea is a lengthy affair, attacks lasting usually from 8 to 10 weeks and with a definite tendency to recur. Surely, if a child can be spared this illness by proper supervision of his nutrition, parents can not give too much attention to this matter and would do well to consult a doctor any time the child shows signs of undernourishment.

VACATION AUTO TIP...

CHECK-UP BEFORE YOU START

If you are one of the many who, for the first time in years, are planning vacation motor trips in pre-war cars—take our advice:

Plan your tour for shorter daily runs than you used to take, so that you won't have to drive fast on old tires.

Have your car thoroughly checked over, tuned up and adjusted before you leave. Little faults (such as a slipping fan belt, worn brake shoes and countless others) can readily develop into major difficulties before your vacation trip is ended.

Arab League Keeps Eye on Palestine

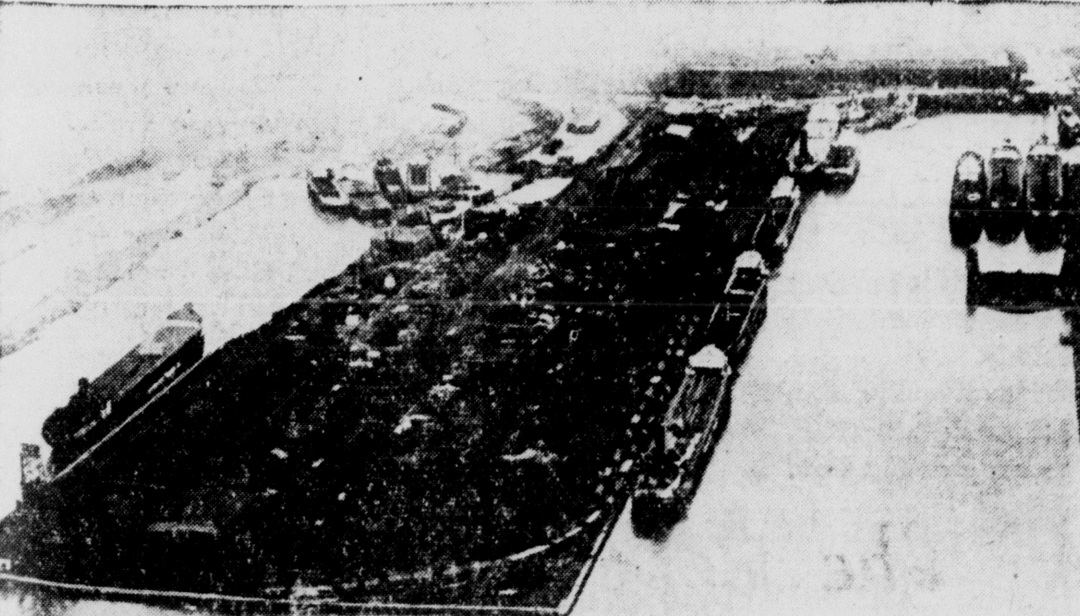

Palestine, hotspot of the Middle East, is not a member of the powerful Arab League because it is a British Mandate from World War I. But the League is keeping close watch on the Arab-Jewish situation, maintaining that Palestine should be independent and make its own decisions regarding future population. At present there are about 1,200,000 Arabs and only 600,000 Jews. Problem of Palestinian partition and admission of more Jews may be decided by United Nations.

UNBALANCED FEDERAL BUDGET

THIS CHART shows the state of the federal budget since 1940. These figures, supplied by the federal reserve board, do not include government corporations. (International)

OHIO HAS "MOST RICHLY ENDOWED" CITY IN WORLD

THEORETICALLY, each of these bike-riding girls, top, is worth $10,000 merely because they are four of the 288 residents of Lithopolis, O., called the most richly endowed village on earth. It all came about when Mrs. Mabel Wagnalls Jones recently left a bequest of $2,500,000 to make the town a memorial to her father, Adam Wagnalls, a native of Lithopolis. The inheritance was the second big windfall for the town, for in 1924, Mrs. Jones built a $50,000 community center, with 9,000-volume library (shown at left below), auditorium and dining hall. But that is not all the town has to boast about, for another citizen, Sammy Leyendecker, right, brought Lithopolis glory, when stone from his quarry won first prize in the St. Louis World's Fair. It's from this quarry that a good share of the town buildings have been constructed as well as edifices across the nation. (International)

It all came about when Mrs. Mabel Wagnalls Jones recently left a bequest of $2,500,000 to make the town a memorial to her father, Adam Wagnalls, a native of Lithopolis. The inheritance was the second big windfall for the town, for in 1924, Mrs. Jones built a $50,000 community center, with 9,000-volume library (shown at left below), auditorium and dining hall. But that is not all the town has to boast about, for another citizen, Sammy Leyendecker, right, brought Lithopolis glory, when stone from his quarry won first prize in the St. Louis World's Fair. It's from this quarry that a good share of the town buildings have been constructed as well as edifices across the nation. (International)

Salem Polo Club Whips Harbor Hills 10-8 In Upset Here

Locals To Seek Revenge Over Harrisburg, Pa., In Sunday, Wednesday Tries

Highly enthusiastic over a surprise 10-8 victory over the talented Harbor Hills polo club of Columbus, the Salem Polo club is looking forward to revenge against Harrisburg, Pa., when they appear on the local field next Sunday.

Salem put the works to Columbus here Sunday before a fairly large crowd at the N. Ellsworth road field.

The visit of the Harrisburg club here next week promises to give Salem fans another unusual polo treat, as the Keystone state outfit is rated among the best in its area.

Harrisburg will appear in Salem twice next week, playing the Sunday game and remaining in Salem for the special American Legion Quaker City band benefit game on Wednesday.

All the proceeds of the Wednesday game will be turned over to the band for its uniform fund.

Salem Sunday displayed excellent form and beautiful teamwork in downing the highly-touted Harbor Hills outfit, thereby revenging a stinging defeat suffered in Columbus in pre-war days.

Willie Smith, with three goals and J. Brooke "Pete" Votaw, who scored twice, were luminaries for Salem yesterday.

Both turned in exceptionally outstanding games, cashing in on numerous opportunities to set the ball in scoring position and tiding hard to help form as well knit a team as the locals have shown this year.

The local bounded off to 5-2 lead in the first chukker, adding two in the second to none for the visitors.

Salem scored three times in the third and Columbus netted one. In the fourth the Harbor Hills men got three goals, Salem none.

Frank Harris, Columbus star, tallied four goals to lead the team Sunday while Ralph Barrett, playing No. 1 position, turned in a pretty game despite a failure to tally.

Hal Everett, playing for Salem picked up three goals to match Smith's exhibition with the mallet. Walt Ferneng tallied once and Tony Sheen once.

Art Drake tallied once and Walt Shapter once for Columbus in the first half and each scored singly in the final three chukkers.

Jack Hendricks handled the officiating and Ralph Phillips was on the mike.

Allhouse Nine Wins Over Akron Team 6-1

Rapping Akron pitching for nine hits, the Allhouse Dodge nine swept to an easy 6-1 victory over the Steinbridge All-Stars Sunday at the Lake Placid diamond.

"Big" Simpson had things pretty much his own way, as he set the All-Stars down with five bingles, fanning five and walking one.

The leading hitters for the Allhouse team were Tisch and Profeta, with three for five and Joe Schwartzhoff, with two for four.

SEASON ON DUCKS REDUCED, HUNTER LIMIT ALSO DOWN

Take Now only Seven Days Cut to 45, A Reduction Of 35 On Season

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A 45-day duck hunting season—a reduction of 35 days from last year—was announced today by Secretary of Interior Krug.

The regulations for the 1946 hunting season also reduce the daily bag limit from 10 to 7, and the possession limit from 20 to 7.

Shooting hours for waterfowl, coot, rails and gallinules will run from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. This clips one-half hour from the closing end of the day.

In announcing the regulations, Krug called the duck-hunting rules the most drastic since 1938.

By way of explanation, Krug said in a statement accompanying the regulations:

"The population of most species of wild ducks has declined within the past two years from a peak of 125,500,000 in 1944 to 80,900,000 birds—a dangerous level.

"With a 36 per cent decrease in ducks coupled with a 50 per cent increase in the number of hunters from 1944 to 1946, we invite disaster if we dig any deeper into our breeding stocks. American sportsmen must take a smaller portion of ducks and geese during the 1946 season so that more breeders will be left to fly north in the spring of 1947."

High points of the 1946 regulations include:

The waterfowl season runs from Oct. 5 to Nov. 18 in the northern zone; from Oct. 26 to Dec. 9 in the intermediate zone; from Nov. 23 to Jan. 6 in the southern zone.

The daily bag and possession limits for geese have been reduced to two of any kind in any combination, including brant, plus two snow geese or two blue geese, singly or in combination.

Ohio Intermediate Zone

A closed season on Canada is prescribed in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. This was attributed to a decrease in the number of these geese along the Mississippi river.

Interstate transportation of waterfowl (except American and red-breasted Merganser ducks) is limited to one day's bag in a calendar week.

The post-season period for possession of migratory game birds remains 90 days.

The regulations prohibit the taking of waterfowl by means of bait or with the aid of live ducks or goose decoys.

The regulations were drafted by the Fish and Wildlife Service after consultation with state game administrators. They were approved by President Truman, as well as Secretary Krug.

The open season for wild ducks, geese and brant in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia is Oct. 26 to Dec. 9.

COACH BEN BARRETT PLACES EMPHASIS ON TRAINING AS TEAM RECEIVES 1ST ORDERS

With all emphasis placed on strict observance of training rules, Coach Ben Barrett, Salem High football mentor for the fourth straight season, will assemble his 1946 proteges at Reilly stadium today for the issuance of uniforms and equipment.

Workouts will start Tuesday.

Not blessed with any returning stars, Barrett this season has almost a full stack of letter winners back, however, and expects to mould a formidable aggregation for Quakertown.

Barrett's emphasis on good training this season is going to be far more strict than ever before.

He has several good reasons for this, but the most important is, as he puts it, "we have plenty of good material this year and consequently won't have any prima donnas on the team."

Either regulations will be carried out, Barrett said, or the violator won't be a member of Salem's squad.

The Quaker mentor plans two workouts a day until school starts and then will settle down to the regular two to three hour sessions after classes each day.

Salem opens this season with Cleveland Rhodes, a formidable opponent which promises to have one of the best teams in its history. Last season Salem and Rhodes tied 0-0 before a large opening game throng at Reilly stadium.

The second game Salem travels to Ravenna to meet Harry Gilcrest's Ravens under the newly-erected Ravenna lights.

The following week East Palestine appears here and the next week the annual Salem-Leetonia rivalry will be renewed with Coach Joe Fortunato replacing Charlie Mather at the Bear helm.

Besides those contests, Salem will travel to meet Struthers and Girard, and plays East Liverpool, Wellsville and Lisbon at home.

Faculty Manager Fred E. Cope said today that this early interest in season tickets this year is unprecedented since he began handling sales here since 1932.

Cope is constantly being contacted by fans for season tickets and says it has been going on for weeks. The tickets have not yet been placed on sale at the downtown outlets, but Cope expects to release them in the near future.

Barrett, who has handled the largest turnout of football candidates in the school's history since he came here from Struthers four Augusts ago, expects another record group, but has indicated that the immediate squads at Reilly stadium will be somewhat smaller this year after eliminations are made.

The Salem coach plans to cut down on the numbers of the various groups so that Assistants Joe Kelley, Frank Tarr and Bob Miller will have more workable groups.

Practices this season will be held on the fields adjacent to the stadium with no workouts on the playing field.

Although spring practice was not held here, Barrett expects his players to be in good shape due to participation in track and the summer softball programs.

A large number of new candidates have contacted the coach regarding trying out, but the first day figure will probably not surmount 60, he said.

When Junior High candidates appear later, the total will approximate 100, Barrett said.

MIAMI SEAHAWKS TO TRAVEL ONLY BY AIR IN 1946

Become One of First Major Athletic Teams to Move Entirely By Plane

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 19.—Baseball clubs started postwar travel by air on a limited basis this summer but the Miami Seahawks of the All-America conference will become one of the first major athletic teams in the nation to travel exclusively by plane when they compete in the new pro football circuit this year.

Through this time-saving mode of travel the Seahawks will be able to practice in Miami's warm climate during the season. They'll remain here during the week and fly to the scene of their game each weekend.

Start Aug. 30

First city to be invaded from the air by the Seahawks will be Baltimore where Coach Jack Meagher's men meet the Buffalo Bills the night of Aug. 30 in a game for the benefit of the Maryland department, American Legion.

Except for the month of September, when they swing through the west to play Cleveland, San Francisco and Los Angeles, the Seahawks will practice at the Biscayne Kennel club grounds or Miami stadium annex.

In most instances the Miami club will depart for its destination a day prior to the game and return to Miami immediately following the game.

After tiffs with San Francisco and Los Angeles, the Seahawks will leave for Atlanta Sept. 27 where on the following day they meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in a charity game for the benefit of the Atlanta Variety club's welfare fund. They will arrive in Miami on Sept. 29 to prepare for their home opener Monday night, Oct. 7th with San Francisco.

COACH BEN BARRETT PLACES EMPHASIS ON TRAINING AS TEAM RECEIVES 1ST ORDERS

With all emphasis placed on strict observance of training rules, Coach Ben Barrett, Salem High football mentor for the fourth straight season, will assemble his 1946 proteges at Reilly stadium today for the issuance of uniforms and equipment.

Workouts will start Tuesday.

Not blessed with any returning stars, Barrett this season has almost a full stack of letter winners back, however, and expects to mould a formidable aggregation for Quakertown.

Barrett's emphasis on good training this season is going to be far more strict than ever before.

He has several good reasons for this, but the most important is, as he puts it, "we have plenty of good material this year and consequently won't have any prima donnas on the team."

Either regulations will be carried out, Barrett said, or the violator won't be a member of Salem's squad.

The Quaker mentor plans two workouts a day until school starts and then will settle down to the regular two to three hour sessions after classes each day.

Salem opens this season with Cleveland Rhodes, a formidable opponent which promises to have one of the best teams in its history. Last season Salem and Rhodes tied 0-0 before a large opening game throng at Reilly stadium.

The second game Salem travels to Ravenna to meet Harry Gilcrest's Ravens under the newly-erected Ravenna lights. The following week East Palestine appears here and the next week the annual Salem-Leetonia rivalry will be renewed with Coach Joe Fortunato replacing Charlie Mather at the Bear helm.

Besides these contests, Salem will travel to meet Struthers and Girard, and plays East Liverpool, Wellsville and Lisbon at home.

Faculty Manager Fred E. Cope said today that the early interest in season tickets this year is unprecedented since he began handling sales here since 1932.

Although spring practice was not held here, Barrett expects his players to be in good shape due to participation in track and the summer softball programs.

A large number of new candidates have contacted the coach regarding trying out, but the first day figure will probably not surmount 60, he said.

When Junior High candidates appear later, the total will approximate 100, Barrett said.

Allhouse Nine Wins Over Akron Team 6-1

Rapping Akron pitching for nine hits, the Allhouse Dodge nine swept to an easy 6-1 victory over the Steinbridge All-Stars Sunday at the Lake Placencia diamond.

"Bus" Simpson had things pretty much his own way, as he set the All-Stars down with five bingles, fanning five and walking one.

The leading hitters for the Allhouse team were Tisch and Profeta, with three for five and Joe Schwartzhoff, with two for four.

The Dodge squad will tangle with the Canton W. & R. Sports next Sunday. Canton is one of the two teams who have defeated the Placencia club this season.
